MEET KIM TURNER

KIM, DAUGHTER OF A MEMORY CARE RESIDENT

As a longtime occupational therapist, Kim Turner has experienced many different types of senior living communities and recognizes the exceptional care provided at Renaissance North Tampa. When her mother Carolyn showed signs of needing more specialized support for memory loss, Kim toured Renaissance and could immediately see the difference – it starts with the leadership and continues with each team member. “To have a memory care director of that caliber medically who is also such a caring individual is truly special.”

Moving Carolyn to the memory care neighborhood was definitely a positive change to her daily routine – now she is active and engaged whereas previously she was spending more time in bed. “When we come to visit, she’s always busy and saying goodbye is not as hard because we are taking her back to an activity. And whatever activity they are doing, they bring it to her level.”

Most importantly, Kim has found the memory care team to be both compassionate and communicative. They send pictures to residents’ family members, look after residents closely and are constantly in touch with any information that could help her mom. “The proactive nature of the community in making sure the residents are as safe as possible and contacting me about any issues my mom is having – that is unique to Renaissance.”
